Soil Survey of County Shown In New Book

STUDY MADE IN COUNTY OF ALL SOIL

Map Shows Formations of 10-Acre Tracts in Randall

OF GREAT VALUE

Books Sent to Land Owners and Farmers of County

Congressman Marvin Jones and Senator Tom Connally are distributing the Soil Survey booklets of Randall county as made in 1930. The survey was made by E. H. Templin and T. C. Reitch, the two men spending a year in platting and classifying every 10-acre tract of land in Randall county. Printing of the book was held up for about two years when funds for this purpose were exhausted.

The finest feature of the survey is a detailed colored map 30x30 inches. This map shows every type of soil in the county, every road, school house and lake. Those interested in soil in the county may examine the map and see just what kind of soil is on any piece of land in the county.

The maps were distributed to many farmer-land owners of the county, and additional copies are available from the government at 35 cents each.

"The survey is an excellent piece of work for the benefit of those interested in land in the county, and should be preserved for future use," stated County Agent W. H. Upchurch.

Potter county is the only other county in the Panhandle which has been given a soil survey.

The survey contains considerable historical data referring to settlement, rainfall, crops, climate, agricultural data, and a complete survey and description of the soils in every section of the county. Every farmer will be able to get valuable information as to his own land by studying the report and the map which accompanies the book.

Secretary Wallace to Visit Panhandle on 5th of August

When Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace comes to Amarillo Monday, Aug. 5, it will afford the first opportunity of the Southwest to see and hear a "New Deal" cabinet member.

"Not only agriculture leaders, but also any others interested are invited to greet this distinguished visitor," declared Grover Hill, who is chairman of the general committee making arrangements to entertain Secretary Wallace.

"Agriculture is facing many difficulties and it is important to know what our Secretary has in mind," he continued. "People will want to see and hear the man under whose management they have received wheat and cotton allotment checks, feed and seed loans.

While here for only the one day Secretary Wallace is scheduled to make an address at 8 o'clock in the afternoon at the Municipal auditorium.

"There will be a tremendous interest throughout the country in this address," said Mr. Hill, "because the Department of Agriculture has become most important in government and its policies affect 40,000,000 persons."

The visiting cabinet member is a real dirt farmer and developed Wallace corn, one of the popular varieties in Iowa. He also operates a dairy, feeding out Panhandle cattle every year in his lots.

This true friend of the farmer, the man to whom farmers pin their faith, is coming to Amarillo and the Panhandle on a tour of inspection and as a compliment to

Bids Called For W. T. Buildings

Addition to Cousins and Ten Student Cottages

Bids will be opened on August 9th for the construction of the addition to Cousins Hall, and the erection of ten cottages on the campus to provide light house-keeping facilities for couples attending W. T.

These two projects are the second and third of the five PWA projects which will be erected on the campus. According to information received from Washington, it is indicated that work will start much sooner after the contract has been let than was possible for the men's dormitory.

J. B. Maxey, contractor on the men's dormitory, states that work on this building will be finished by September 15th in time for occupancy at the beginning of the fall semester. The contract allows him until October 15th to finish the job.

All brick work will be completed this week, and the roof will be finished by the first of the week. Rapid progress is being made on all phases of the construction.

Bids on the two new projects will be opened in the office of President J. A. Hill.

Plans are being completed for the erection of the Home Economics cottage and the athletic field improvements, the other two PWA projects which have been approved for the campus. Bids on these two will likely be let within the coming month.

Lee Johnson Gives Report to Rotary Meeting Tuesday

Lee Johnson, secretary of the Canyon Rotary Club, gave an interesting report at the luncheon Tuesday of the president-secretary meeting held at Vernon two weeks ago. 41 of the 59 clubs of the 41st district were represented. Jim Willson, new district Governor, presided and gave much valuable information for the work of the clubs during the coming year. Mr. Willson termed Rotary as a practical application of the Golden Rule.

Last month the Canyon club stood 9th in the district for attendance. Allen Parlow is the only member of the Canyon club who has maintained a perfect attendance since the club was organized.

Visitors present were: L. J. Pickering, Max West, J. L. Thompson, and W. S. Norman, Amarillo; Rev. R. Clifton Doran, Dalhart.

Hospital Is Opened For Crippled Children of the State

C. H. Jarrett, chairman of the Home Service committee of the Red Cross, has received word from Galveston that the John Sealy Hospital will be ready to receive crippled children on September 1st.

"If there are any crippled children in your community whose circumstances are such that hospital care cannot be provided by the family, we will be glad to admit them as state cases," states the Superintendent.

Parents wishing this service for a crippled child should get in touch with Mr. Jarrett.

Stray Dogs in East End Destroy Property

Stray dogs are doing much damage to the flowers, shrubbery and grass all over the east part of town, and especially upon the campus of W. T.

Many citizens have complained that they are kept awake at night by the constant barking of these dogs, and officers have killed a number of them the past week.

President J. A. Hill stated yesterday that unless the dogs are taken up, and kept from destroying flowers on the campus a number of dogs must be killed.

Those who have dogs which they value should see to it that they are kept at home.

AAA will continue to function regardless of the decision of the federal courts against the collection of the processing taxes. This provision was made by the terms of the bill passed Tuesday by the Senate. The bill had passed the House, and will now go to conference for adjustment.

Farmers are assured that the allotments will be continued under the terms of the new bill.

Historical Society Boosts Centennial With Letter Head

The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, of which W. H. Patrick of Clarendon is president, is calling attention to the Texas Centennial on every letter which goes out from its offices.

In the center of the shadowy Texas Alamo forms a background in front of which appears in outline the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum building. On each side are seen Indian buffalo hunters, cowboys with prairie schooners of the past; on the other side are representations of the wheat farms, oil wells and cattle industry of today. The letter head is given unity by the caption "The Texas Centennial—1836-1936."

Miss Bettie Zelle of Amarillo, an art student of West Texas State Teachers College, designed the letter head. It will be used during the remainder of 1935 and thru 1936.

LOCAL MEN ASK FUNDS FOR WORK

Four Road Projects on List Submitted to Authority

WORK START SOON

Continue Campus Project Placed Head of List

Randall county's projects for WPA were presented yesterday in Amarillo by representatives of W. T., Randall County, the city of Canyon, and the Canyon Independent School district. According to instructions from Washington, relief rolls will be abolished as quickly as possible and men now on these rolls will be transferred to the new set up.

Completion of Buffalo Courts, the Recreation building, rock fences and other improvements on the campus will probably take preference under WPA in view of the fact that the materials are now on the ground. The legislature appropriated $7,500 for these materials, and work is under way. Labor necessary to complete these projects has been approved under the relief plan, but it was necessary to present a continuation of this work as a project under WPA.

Another project on the campus will be submitted, the removal of a pre-historic Indian village from the Canadian, and restoring it in its original form. Floyd Stader of Amarillo has been greatly interested in this project for some time, and has worked out the plan with Prof. C. S. Johnston. These men have also requested a continuation of excavations which are being made in Donley and Hemphill counties.

Completion of the gymnasium in the Canyon ward school was submitted as a school project.

Widening of Fourth Avenue was the project submitted by the city of Canyon.

Randall county has two road projects, one leading southeast to Wayside, and the other south-

Plans Being Made For Big Show at the Tri-State Fair

Catalogues for the Tri-State Fair Sept. 13-21, listing more than $15,000 in cash premiums, are available now.

Copies will be furnished upon request of O. L. "Ted" Taylor, Secretary-Manager. The catalogues set forth all the entry rules.

This year the Tri-State Fair will be the largest exposition in Texas and complete in every department. Racing, with more and better entries than ever, again will be the feature attraction, but there will be plenty of other amusement, including Beckmann and Gerety, largest midway shows in the United States. These "world's best shows" will come direct from Detroit, Mich.

Concessionaires already are applying for space at the 1935 fair, which in recent years has developed into an elaborate show window of the Southwest, daily attracting thousands upon thousands of men, women and children through its free gates from several states.

Applications for concession space should be sent to Secretary-Manager Taylor.

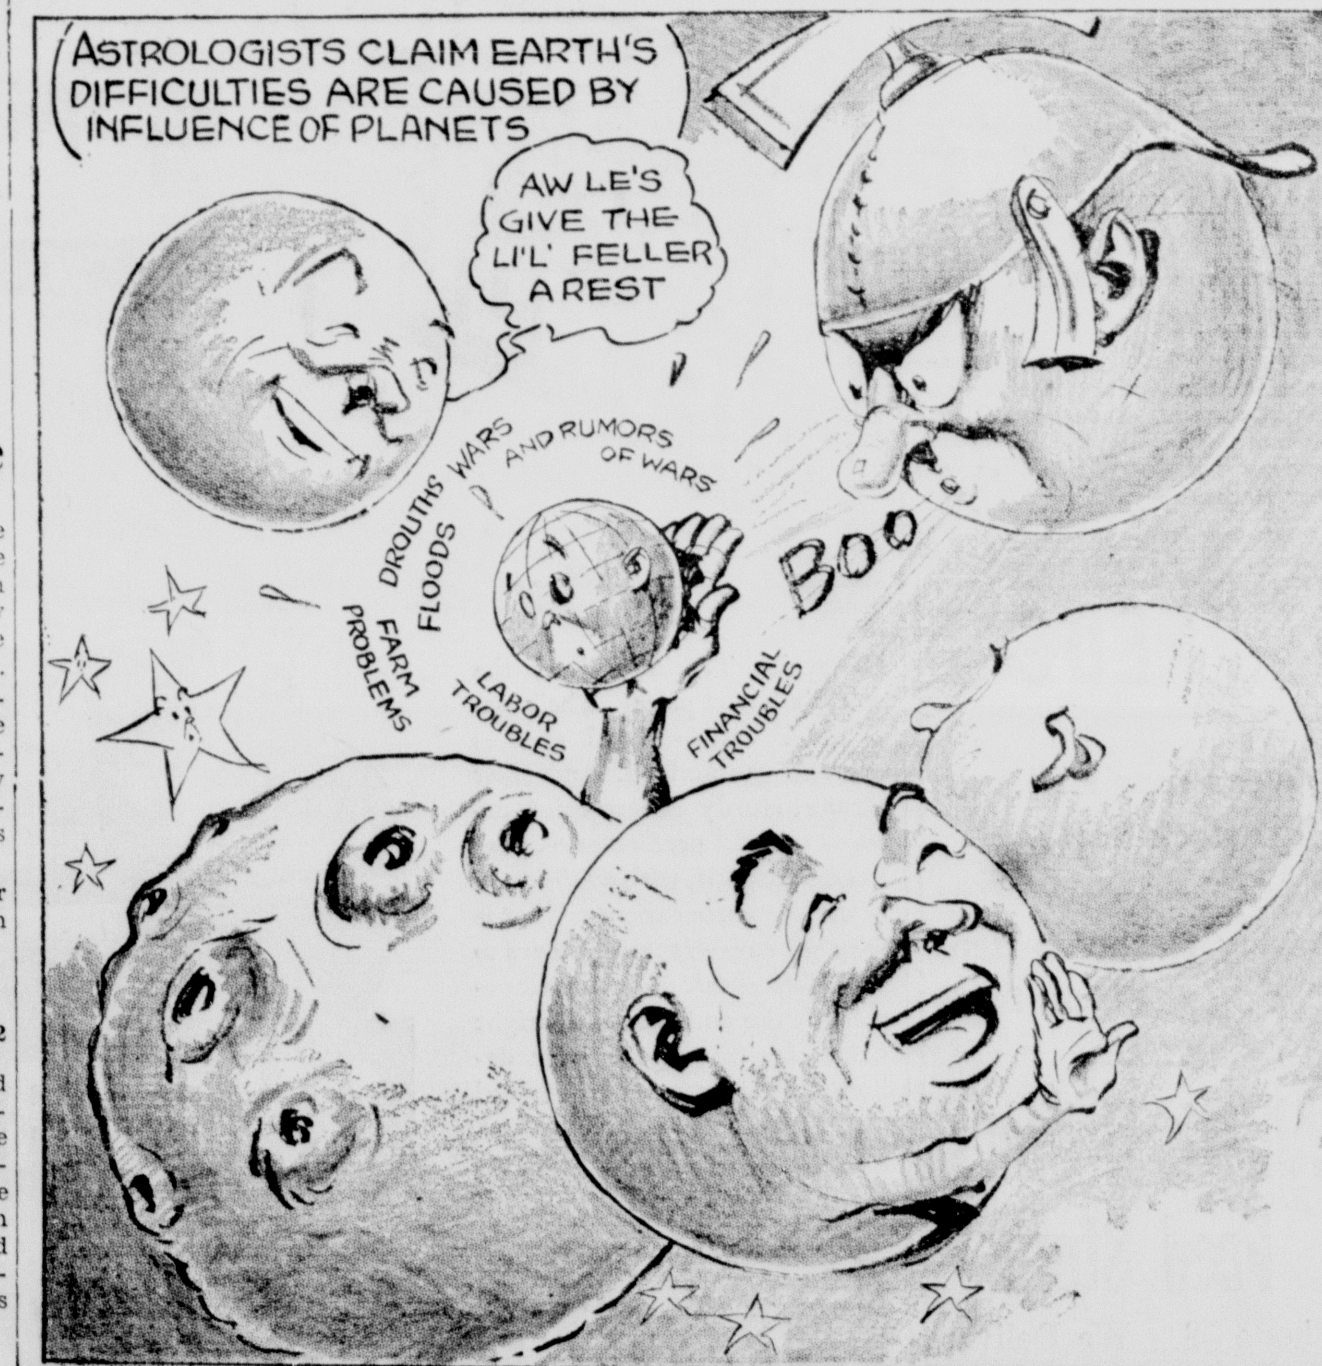

Wilbur C. Hawk, president of the fair association, said today, community and county fairs throughout the tri-state territory probably would be held during the week just preceding the exposition here.

"These will provide elimination contests so only the best of exhibits will be concentrated for the Tri-State fair," he said.

The fall racing meet of the Tri-State Fair will begin Friday, Sept. 13. The fair proper will open Monday, Sept. 16, and continue throughout the week, including Saturday, Sept. 21.

Miss Erin Gamble was a week end visitor in Canyon. She will teach next year in the Stamford school.

THE BIG BULLIES

Increased Number Cars at Palo Duro Park During Week

476 cars entered the Palo Duro State Park during the past week. The total number of cars for the year is now 6964, according to records compiled this week on the receipts of the Park.

73 Texas towns were represented the past week, with Amarillo leading with 141 cars. Pampa had 21 cars, while Canyon dropped to third place with 15. Other towns sending a number of cars were: Borger 14; Dallas 12; Lubbock 9; Houston, Plainview, Hereford, Port Worth, 8 each; Tulsa 7. 62 other towns sent from 1 to 3 cars.

Receipts at the Park are running about in line with the amount contemplated when the Park was established.

W. T. EXES END YEAR WITH MONEY IN BANK

The Ex-Students Association of the West Texas State Teachers College managed to balance its budget for the year ending June 14, 1935. Most ex-student associations are about in the red, but the West Texas organization with Lee Johnson of Canyon as executive secretary and J. B. Speer of Morse as President in 1934-35, managed to end the year with $122.53 on hand which is more than most business organizations can boast of over the same period.

PROHIBITION AND THE AUGUST ELECTION

Prohibition bobs up again on August 24 when Texas votes on the repeal of its state law. What should we do about it? National prohibition was bad, the sale of wine and beer under the present set-up is worse, and with outright repeal and all restraints removed we can count on the return of all the evils of pre-war saloon days.

We were inclined to favor the legalization of wine and beer, but must now admit that with the return of these milder alcoholic beverages there has been a complete breakdown of all prohibition laws. Hard liquor is sold openly and little attempt is made to enforce the state law. Arrests for drunkenness have greatly increased, and the combination of "tight" drivers behind high speed motors is taking a rapidly mounting toll in death and injuries.

It doesn't matter very much what happens to the state law on August 24 unless it is enforced better than at present. Texans will probably let matters rock along until the horrors of an uncontrolled liquor traffic become so appalling that they will outlaw the "beast" just as they outlaw any other destroyer of human happiness.

The prohibition question is one of the hardest "nuts" the American people have to crack. Whatever is done seems to be wrong, and we ultimately wish that something else had been tried. Prohibition is not entirely satisfactory, but it is infinitely better than repeal. Anyhow, the strength of the prohibition sentiment is in the rural South and we are hoping the farmers of Texas will throw their votes to the prohibition cause on August 24.—Progressive Farmer.

The death of AAA would be the most serious blow the farmers of this nation has sustained so far as recovery is concerned. Maybe the processing taxes are inconvenient, and so are all other forms of taxes. Those who attack the processing taxes are not the consumers, but are the millers, in the case of wheat, and packers in the case of hogs. The tax is not costing the millers and the packers any more than the individual owners of these businesses personally use. While seeking to avoid a small personal tax, and perhaps a little inconvenience in the collection of these taxes, they are dealing a terrific blow to their best customers, the farmers of the nation. They seem to fail to realize that until the farmer gets on his feet and starts to making money, prosperity cannot return in this nation. That Congress will see to it that the processing tax will be continued, no one doubts for a minute. To withdraw the benefits of AAA now would wreck the slight gain for recovery which the administration has been instrumental in passing during these trying 2½ years.

Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas made an interesting talk on the Texas legislature the other day before a woman's club. Mrs. Hughes served in the Texas legislature before being honored with appointment as District Judge. The extreme youth of the legislature, and the lack of party responsibility were termed by Judges Huses as reasons for the failure of the Texas legislature to properly function. The Governor is not a leader, because he has no party to lead. As a result every legislator feels free to snipe at the program of the Governor. The same thing is true in Congress today. With such a heavy Democratic majority, those so-called independent Democrats from the solid Democratic states do not have the party respect and feel the party responsibilities which are necessary for successful party legislation. Sniping the President is the popular pastime among too many Democrats because they believe that it is the popular thing to do.

What is a lawyer worth to the state as a judge? Hal Lattimore has resigned from the Court of Civil Appeals because a salary of $5,160 was not sufficient. The legislature increased this salary for the coming two years. While it is true a good lawyer is deserving a good salary when he becomes a servant of the state, chances are that the salary he commands is superior to any salary he made in private practice. The thing which really galls other state employees is the fact the courts demand from 50% to 100% better salaries from the state than other classes of public officials. While the courts are important, we cannot see that they are so much more important than other phases of the state's business. But so long as the lawyers are able to send fully 50% of the legislature from their profession, the large salaries for judges will continue.

The Federal Power Commission has issued a rate review for all towns in Texas. Consumers may see the rates which are being charged in every town, and make comparisons as between various companies. It is to be noted that municipally owned plants do not uniformly have the lowest rates, but in some instances have even the highest rates in the state. There is a great variance of rates. 25 kw-hours run from $1.38 to $3.20; 100 kw-hours from $3.96 to $8.60; 250 kw-hours from $6.85 to $10.70. The same wide spread in rates is as equally true of the big towns as in the small towns. The federal commission has no doubt performed a real service to the cities of Texas in bringing together these facts.

The wheat farmers are making a small threat of boycott against the millers who are seeking injunctions against the processing tax. The boycott is the favorite weapon of labor against industry. So far the farmer has gone on producing, taking what was offered for his produce, without any method of protest. The millers are making a mistake in fighting the processing tax, and the boycott is only the reasonable answer of the farmers who see the possibilities of their business being again wrecked by low prices. The processing tax is a protective tariff in favor of the farmer. It is the first real move to bring about reasonable recovery for those who produce the wealth of the nation.

Texas newspapers are disappointed in two phases of the Centennial. That no Texas newspaper men have been given jobs in the advertising or publicity departments; that no newspaper advertising will be placed. The bulk of the attendance at the Centennial will come from Texas. The newspapers of the state are supposed to give the necessary space to adequately advertise the big show. Many Texas publishers feel that they are being made the goat, in view of the large sums being paid for every other service in connection with the Centennial.

President Roosevelt is silently taking all the brickbats hurled in his direction by the Republicans and the independent Democrats. The President evidently believes that the insurgents will hang themselves if left alone. A swing west across the nation will start in a few weeks. Ample opportunity will be afforded the President to talk to the people, and to take them into his confidence. It would be surprising to see many of his critics wish they had not said quite so much after the President has spoken.

Sam M. Braswell has sold the Clarendon News to Fred L. Williams of Taft. Mr. Braswell retires as publisher of the oldest newspaper in the Panhandle following 18 years of successful work on that good paper. According to announcement last week, Sam has not fully determined his future work, but his many friends hope he will remain in the Panhandle. Mr. Williams is a successful young newspaper man with a wide experience.

Only a few years ago railroads were fighting tooth and toe nail to build additional lines in the Panhandle. Now they are seeking to close down the service on the new lines which were built. The depression and drouth were no respectors of persons. The high as well as the low were caught, and one man's judgment was little better than another man's.

A good way to stop kidnapping is being adopted by the federal government in dealing out heavy penalties. Of course every kidnapper is so dumb that he believes he has planned the perfect crime.

Dr. Hill Prefers Present Status To Open Saloon

"Although many people violate them, I am not in favor of repealing the Ten Commandments, nor the state prohibition law," Dr. J. A. Hill, president of West Texas State Teachers College, summed up in a talk to the First Baptist Brotherhood and guests at a dinner in Pampa Sunday night. He urged that men set a good example for youth, and added that "this country suffers more from the bad influence of good men than the deeds of bad men." Taxes derived from the legalization of liquor sales would not repay the damage caused to young people, Dr. Hill maintained.

Judge W. R. Ewing of Pampa, a speaker on the same subject, said that the Dean law in Texas has not been enforced since national repeal of prohibition, and that more hard liquor is being sold in the state since beer legalized.

The present state liquor law, with all its faults, is better than none, Judge Ewing said, and "holes-in-the-wall" are better than open saloons.

Just now a tremendous fight is being made by processors and industrial groups against the Agricultural Act.

Hundreds of suits are being filed to contest the validity of the act and to prevent the collection of the processing fees from which funds are obtained for carrying on the farm program.

The recent decision of the United States Supreme Court has given encouragement to the hope of these groups that they may be able to stop the collection of these fees and thus destroy the farm program.

We are all hoping that they may not succeed.

It has been my privilege to handle in its passage through the House practically all the farm legislation of the Administration.

As a result of this legislation, not only have farm prices been materially increased but hundreds of millions of dollars have been paid to farmers in rental and benefit payments as a means of restoring price parity. More than one hundred million dollars have been restored to the farmers of Texas.

In my judgment, this has been of great advantage to the entire country in tending to restore balanced conditions.

Soon after the court decision referred to, we introduced in the House a measure ratifying the entire previous agricultural program and changing the original act in such a way as to remove, in so far as possible, any question of the legality of the act in the future. This measure has already passed the House and is now undergoing a fight in the Senate. Before this is printed, we hope it may have passed the Senate and will be in conference between the two houses.

I believe it is all-important that the farm program be continued in the interest of the entire country. The united manner in which the farmers have stood by this legislation has been encouraging to all those who have had a part in its enactment.

We have come a long way from the fear, uncertainty and distressed farm conditions that prevailed at the beginning of the program. We cannot afford to surrender what has already been accomplished.

Feed sacks solved the problem of a summer suit for Mrs. A. M. Curry, co-operator of the Lake Side Home Demonstration Club. Five certified feed sacks and one egg mash sack were used. The sacks were laundered nicely and used in the natural color, a light gray, for the skirt and jacket. The material closely resembles a cotton tweed suiting, but is heavier and takes tailoring even better.

The egg mash sack was of lighter material and was tied and dyed a French blue and made into a blouse. The buttons and fasteners were taken from an old garment. The only expense of the suit was 15 cents for dye and thread.

The suit won third place in the stout non-sheer dresses in the county dress contest, June 13.

CHEAP PAINT... is entirely TOO EXPENSIVE

Low-grade paint always costs far more in the long run than high-grade paint. That's because good paint—like Lowe Brothers High Standard—covers more surface to the gallon, retains its finish much longer, cuts down painters' time and looks better. Before you paint come in and get the facts about paint economy. We can save you money.

Local Police Will Learn Methods of G-Men, in New Anti-Crime Move

Prospective federal agents are shown at top, studying in the criminological laboratory of the new Department of Justice building at Washington. At left below, an agent is shown with weapons taken from dangerous criminals. At right, an expert compares with file fingerprints a photographic enlargement of one taken at the scene of a crime.

EVERY town with its own "G men"! Sounds farfetched, but that, approximately, may be true in the near future.

Many policemen from cities, towns and hamlets all over the United States are going to attend the school whose graduates have terrorized public enemies, notorious kidnapers and other "big shots" of the underworld.

The information they gain will be taken back home and passed on to their comrades. Then this new offensive in the anti-crime war will begin to achieve its purpose.

The methods by which federal agents have paralyzed big-time crime will be trained against smaller fry by local law enforcement officers.

At their disposal, in the Department of Justice's brand-new capital building, will be courses which include the latest developments in crime detection, a vast array of scientific paraphernalia and the tutelage of Uncle Sam's ace sleuths.

FOR one thing, they will learn every conceivable way to trap a careless criminal. Fingerprint identification, for instance, is the main foundation of scientific "gun-shoeing."

The local police will be taught anything they do not already know about "bringing up" faint or erased prints, classifying and identifying them. At hand, for reference, are files holding some 4,500,000 fingerprints, just 10 times the collection of England's famed Scotland Yard.

The students will learn, likewise, to identify handwriting, typewriting and bullets. Their powers of observation will be sharpened by "skull practice" in which each is asked to write down what he saw at a dummy "scene of the crime." Federal experts will strive to improve marksmanship of the students.

In the chemistry division, the local police will learn how to prove the difference or identity of two hairs, two bloodstains, two fibers of cloth, or two pieces of paper.

In addition, there are available courses in bankruptcy, automobile theft, white slavery, kidnapping and illegal possession of arms—offenses in which Uncle Sam has specialized for years.

IT is the hope of justice officials that the selected men who receive this special training will transmit it to their colleagues on local forces, and instill in them the spirit of the G men.

"The establishment of a good and successful tradition aids the police," contends J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Bureau of Investigation. "It has taken us 10 years to build up such a tradition for the Department of Justice agents."

That education of local police in federal methods will make possible closer co-operation between them and federal officers, is the confident hope of Hoover and his chief, Atty. Gen. Homer S. Cummings.

"The local police must be armed and trained just as our men are," says Hoover. "They must be prepared to face modern crime with modern methods."

Paul Pirrone May Find His Path to the Middleweight Title Barred by a Tough Winnipeg Battler Named Frankie Battaglia

BY PHILIP MARTIN

IT appears that Paul Pirrone, the Cleveland middleweight who is reputed to have such a potent right mitt, will have to hurdle one more obstacle before he rightfully can clamor for a title go with Champion Teddy Yarosz.

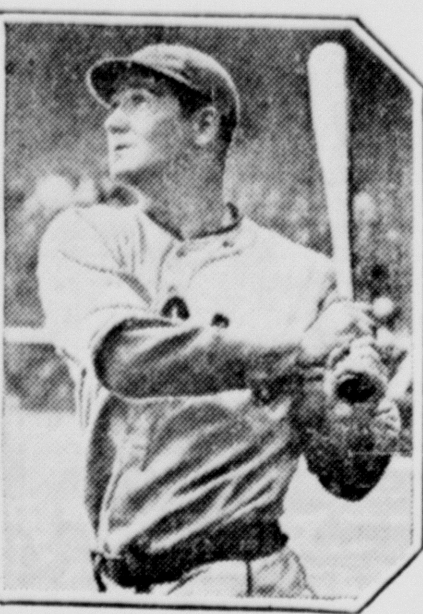

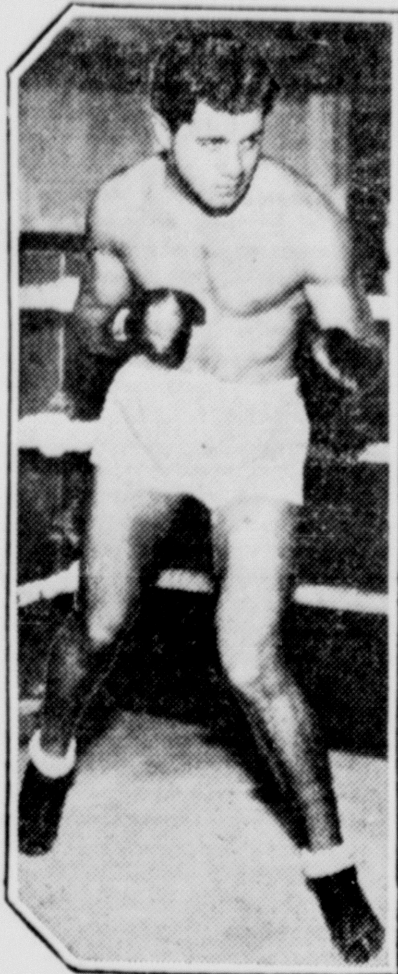

Pole 'em Paulie recently won a close decision over Babe Risko, the Syracuse belter who muddled up the division a few months ago when he met the champ in a non-title go and leathery him so hard that Teddy broke an ankle. Paul's right hand found Risko but a few times during the fight, due mainly to Risko's boxing ability.

On the same card, staged in Cleveland, appeared another fighter. He was Frankie Battaglia, Winnipeg walloper, who is staging a comeback in the ranks since his knockout by Ben Jeby, the New York clown who was champion in 1933.

Frankie demonstrated in his Cleveland bout with Lou Halper that he has a right hand more powerful than Pirrone's, and much more boxing ability. He stopped Halper in the fifth round, something the hard-hitting Pirrone hadn't been able to do in two ten-round bouts.

It has been reported that Pirrone is all set for a title contract, but we'll wager a slightly tarnished copper that Paul will have to hurdle Frankie before he can take a pop at Yarosz' chin.

THE Negro race seems to be monopolizing track honors this year. First it was Ohio State's phenomenal Jesse Owens, who set three records during the Big Ten meet at Ann Arbor, Mich., and equaled another. Now it's Eulace Peacock, the Temple

CHARLES C., BUFFALO MASCOT, DIES AFTER MILE RUN THURSDAY

L. F. Sheffy, Travis Shaw Bought Calves In 1922

Charles C., thirteen-year-old W. T. buffalo mascot, died of the heat after running a mile south of Canyon at noon Thursday. Old-timers, remembering his preceding escapes, maintain that he always headed south toward his old home at Goodnight.

On the occasion of this last dash for freedom, Charles C. was being doctored by employees and students of the college at his pen north of the campus.

Charley objected, almost tied double knots in his tail (they say that when a buffalo quirts his tail, you'd better run), ignored the fence, and lumbered past the new boys' dormitory, going thirty miles an hour according to an athlete, who for a few minutes held one end of a rope—Charley was on the other end.

Pursued By Trucks
Spectators (safe in trucks and cars) pursued the buffalo. He was finally cornered and the dragging rope attached to a truck. Charles C. stood stubbornly but was forced to follow. He walked about 200 yards and then suddenly fell dead.

Charles C. has had an eventful life.

In 1922 an election was held by the student body of W. T. to choose a mascot. The buffalo, running against such stiff competition as the coyote, the screech owl, the jack rabbit, and the prairie dog, won as the most typical of Panhandle animals.

Shaw and Sheffy are Buyers
Travis Shaw and Prof. L. F. Sheffy were delegated to purchase two calves from the herd of Col. Charles Goodnight at Goodnight.

When the two dignitaries got out of their car that morning the colonel, even then an old man, was examining branding tools, indicating that a busy day was before him. Mr. Sheffy using what has since become his best museum manner, approached him, all smiles and courtesy, and began, "Col. Goodnight, I'm L. F. Sheffy, professor of history at W. T."

The colonel butted in, "I don't give a damn who you are. What-in-the-hell do you want?"

Repented His Harshness

However, Col. Goodnight seemed to repent of his harshness and showed the two a fine day. They were fed at the chuck wagon and then taken to the buffalo corral. They picked two six-months-old calves and paid $200 apiece for them.

Late in the fall, too late to be shown off that football season, Brent Taylor, famous Westerner, delivered the calves in a truck.

Hoped to Tame Them

The student body's idea, soon found to be impossible, was to rear the calves "by hand" so that they might be led out on the field at football games.

Names for the mascots were submitted by students and voted upon. Mary Ann, the name of Mrs. Goodnight, and Charles C., in honor of Col. Goodnight, were chosen. It happens that the colonel hadn't the "C" initial in his name, a mistake that has been perpetuated even in the historical records of the college.

Christened With Hose

They were christened, not as one might romantically suppose, by breaking a bottle of wine over their heads, but with a rubber hose shooting water on them from a distance.

Charles C., who soon developed into a ferocious animal, has several times broken out and those in his path have, with reason, stamped. Sometimes he could be herded back into captivity with ease and then again all sorts of care had to be taken not to anger him too much.

Mary Ann has been dead for several years. One calf survive the pair.

Charles C. will be mounted and placed in Buffalo Courts, a constant reminder to the team, of the ferocity they're given credit for by sports editors. It is also planned to use the stuffed figure as a mascot during athletic events.

You may be cool enough but your motor is hotter than Death Valley!

Protect your motor with Germ Processed Oil!

2 to 4 times greater film strength than plain mineral oil—even at motor heats of 225 to 425 degrees

BREEZES may cool you off as you drive, but your motor runs at terrific heats—from 225° in the crankcase to 425° in the cylinders.

To protect your motor, your oil must have extra film strength and maintain it at these high temperatures. Otherwise, the lubricating film ruptures and the bearings and cylinders suffer damaging wear.

Plain mineral oils have little film strength and oils over-refined by the new cleansing methods have even less. Moreover, these oils rapidly lose film strength as motor heat goes up.

You can protect your motor far better with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil, for tests on the Timken Machine prove that at high motor temperatures it has 2 to 4 times greater film strength than any plain mineral oil!

More proof—supervised road tests were made in identical cars fitted with the new alloy metal bearings used in many 1935 cars. The bearings lubricated with a high-quality plain mineral oil showed 45% more wear than those lubricated with Conoco Germ Processed, the first alloyed oil.

Say "O. K.—Drain"—fill with Germ Processed Oil. Drive far—drive fast—without a worry!

Hot Games Witnessed in Softball League

Road Runners Whipped For First Time Thursday

Faster and better softball games, and more interest from an increasing number of fans seems to be the result of cutting the number of teams in the league from eight to four teams. It is believed that no more games will be forfeited and that the four teams now in the league will play a nip and tuck finish.

The Road Runners are on top, having lost only one game during the entire season. This loss was sustained Thursday night, when the Outlaws sprung a surprise by winning a 14-13 match in the last inning.

The following were the results for the two nights:

Thursday, Business Men 9 vs. Phillips 8; Outlaws 14 vs. Road-Runners 13.

Monday night, Road Runners 12 vs. Business Men 0; Phillips 11 vs. Outlaws 8.

The following is the schedule for the coming week:

Tonight: 1. Outlaws vs. Business Men; 2. Road Runners vs. Phillips.

Monday: 1. Business Men vs. Phillips; 2. Road Runners vs. Outlaws.

Thursday, Aug. 1: 1. Road Runners vs. Business Men; 2. Outlaws vs. Phillips.

Mrs. Irby Carruth and her sister, Mrs. Lon Davis and son of Floyd, are spending the week in New Mexico.

Mrs. M. A. Moses, Miss Judy Belle Moses and Mrs. H. Bradshaw all of Ralls are visiting Mrs. Ruby Murphy this week.

Secretary Wallace

Congressman Marvin Jones. Between the Amarillo congressman and the Secretary of Agriculture a warm friendship has developed.

Congressman Jones was the author of a major portion of AAA acts, such as the wheat allotment and the cattle program, which saved the livestock industry, and it was under Wallace that all of the triple A activities were developed and directed.

"The AAA is the most far-reaching program ever undertaken by any government for rehabilitation of agricultural interests," Mr. Hill declared.

"The Wallaces have been pioneers, working for the interests of the farmers," continued Mr. Hill. "For three generations the family has published a farm magazine in the corn belt. The present Secretary's father also served as Secretary of Agriculture. And since Henry Wallace became a member of the cabinet he has written three books, devoted to agricultural interests. All of them have been read widely."

Congressman Marvin Jones has advised friends he will make every effort to be in Amarillo when Secretary Wallace is a visitor.

"This visit from a member of the President's cabinet is not just an Amarillo affair, but an event of importance for all of the Panhandle, eastern New Mexico and Oklahoma," observed Mr. Hill.

west to Dimmitt. These projects will require more man hours than the others, and may have to be reduced owing to the fact that WPA is warned to approve only such projects as may be completed during the coming 18 months.

The highway department has first call upon all men, and has undertaken a completion of the highway improvement plan which was started last year under CWA. However, with the exception of widening No. 9 through Canyon, and the parking south of Canyon, it is likely that the other work between Canyon and Amarillo will be done with men out of Amarillo.

County Relief Director H. S. Strain states that he has not yet been notified as to the set up of the new WPA, but is expecting something before the first of the month. WPA is now more than a month late in getting started from the original plan as adopted by the President.

City Federation Sponsoring Tulip Bulb Sale Here

Nothing is prettier in the spring of the year than a large bed of tulips and they grow with such a little care. Now is the time to supply yourself with bulbs direct from Holland by pooling orders with those sent from Amarillo.

The bulbs are only 50 cents a dozen and may be paid for when the bulbs are delivered. If you want some of these bulbs phone Mrs. T. H. Knighton and place your order with her this week.

B. T. Johnson returned Friday from an extended visit in Dallas, Fort Worth, Kentucky, Ohio, and other sections.

Probe Follows Strato Bag Explosion

Plans to make a careful inspection of the ill-fated strato-bag balloon, Explorer II, which recently burst during inflation while preparations were being made for the long-awaited ascent, were postponed temporarily until the dew-soaked bag became entirely dry. The mammoth gas bag is shown at right, filled to only one-tenth of its 3,700,000 cubic feet capacity, just before the top fabric ripped with a series of popping sounds and the huge balloon slowly crumpled and sank to the floor of the natural bowl in South Dakota's Black Hills. The deflated balloon is shown above, enshrouding the gondola which it was to carry into the rarefied upper air. Another attempt may be made this year.
